"The Crank" Confesses He Smothered Coughlin Child While Making Escape.

(By Universal Service.)

Philadelphia, Oct. 11. - Blakely Coughlin, the infant whose kidnaping several months ago set the police of the whole nation on trial for the abductor, is dead. The child was smothered to death by August Pasquale, the "crank." Pasquale, who has been under ar-

Pasquale, who has been under arrest since August 2 in connection with the stealing of the Coughlin child, today confessed having put the infant to death, according to Maj. Lynn G. Adams, of the State police. "The crank" declares he smothered the child accidentally after stealing it, according to Maj. Adams, and then buried the body near Egg Harbor, N. Y.

Hundreds of detectives are search-ing Egg Harbor today for the body. Adams refused to reveal the exact location of the grave as revealed to him by Pasquale, but said the po-lice have been fully informed of its "Dirtiest City" Cleaning Up.

Stamboul, the native section of Constantinople, is rapidly losing its claim to the distinction of "the dirtiest city in the world." The American Red Cross has organized the first street cleaning department ever seen there and is disposing of heaps of refuse which, for years, have blocked the narrow streets.
